Letter from the Managing Director - CEO

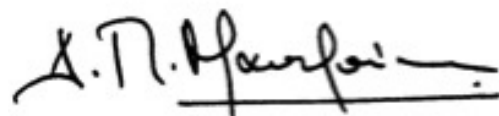

The year 2014 was marked by important developments for the Alpha Bank Group. The first quarter saw the completion, on schedule, of the project for the operational merger with Emporiki Bank, which increased the efficiency of the Group's operation. In March a highly successful Share Capital Increase was carried out, followed in September by the completion of the acquisition of Citibank's Greek Retail Banking operations, including Diners Club Cards, and the launch of the partnership with China UnionPay (CUP), the leading card issuer in the world.

The redemption of the Hellenic Republic's preference shares was an event of great symbolic but also essential significance. Furthermore, the successful completion of the European Central Bank's Comprehensive Assessment in October 2014 and the award "Bank of the Year" in Greece for 2014 granted by "The Banker" magazine to Alpha Bank were among the major events of the year.

During 2014, the Bank continued its significant social and environmental work, through its social contribution initiatives and its support for programmes focusing on education, culture, sports and healthcare.

Finally, it should be pointed out that 2014 saw the launch of the "Together, we aim for health" programme, whose purpose is to donate pharmaceutical supplies, medical and other equipment to Greek islands. Additionally, the "Χέρι Βοηθείας" - "Helping Hand" programme for the donation of food supplies, entered its third year of operation and the project "The defacements that hurt" for the restoration and maintenance of sculptures continued for the second consecutive year. The diverse voluntary events organised for several years now in the framework of the annual "Alpha Bank Group Volunteer Day" were another important part of our 2014 social contribution activities.

We would like to extend our thanks to our Personnel, our Customers and our Shareholders for their trust, support and participation in the initiatives which address the key priorities of our Corporate Social Responsibility Policy and aim to promote sustainable development.

Demetrios P. Mantzounis

Corporate Social Responsibility Report Methodology

The present Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Report is the eighth CSR Report released as an individual publication by Alpha Bank A.E. (hereinafter "the Bank" or "Alpha Bank") and has been prepared in accordance with the internationally recognised G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) (www.globalreporting.org). In addition, the present Report has also taken into consideration the principles of the AA1000 AccountAbility Principles Standard (www.accountability.org), whose foundations are the "inclusion of stakeholder interests in the decision-making process" (Inclusivity), the "identification of the most important issues for the Bank" (Materiality) and the "Bank's responsiveness to stakeholder needs and expectations" (Responsiveness).

For the sixth consecutive year, in preparing the CSR Report use was also made of the GRI's Financial Services Sector Supplement (GRI-FSSS), the most specialised standard on the contents of CSR reports for companies in the banking sector.

Alpha Bank is a Greek Société Anonyme with Banking Operations as its primary activity. The Bank's registered office is located at 40 Stadiou Street, 102 52 Athens, Greece.

The CSR Report 2014 is addressed to all the Bank's Stakeholders and refers to its activities in Greece during the period from 1 January to 31 December 2014, unless otherwise indicated.

The most significant challenge in preparing this year's Report was the transition from the GRI G3 Guidelines to the GRI G4 ones. In order to establish the most important issues for the sustainable development of Alpha Bank, the process for the identification of material issues (materiality analysis) was enhanced. No significant changes were introduced in the scope, boundary or measurement methods with respect to the previous reporting period (i.e. the Bank's CSR Report 2013).

Given the acquisition of Emporiki Bank, which took place during 2013, the Report presents consolidated data only for the previous year, for reasons of comparability.

Furthermore, with respect to the limited assurance of the contents of the Report, the Bank assigned the relevant work to ERNST & YOUNG (HELLAS) Auditors S.A. (EY). Information about EY's work can be found in the last pages of the Report, together with the relevant Assurance Report.

The CSR Report 2014 was prepared by a special team of Officers from various Bank Units, under the coordination of the Corporate Social Responsibility Section. Interested parties may address their queries, comments and suggestions regarding Alpha Bank's CSR Report 2014 to:

Alpha Bank & Corporate Social Responsibility

The Alpha Bank Group is one of the leading Groups of the financial sector in Greece, with a strong presence in the Greek and international banking market. Alpha Bank remains committed to the principles and values that have governed its operation since its very establishment. Ever since its establishment, Alpha Bank has applied best practices in business, management and rules of conduct and ethics governing relations between staff, clients, shareholders and third parties. This spirit has been propagated throughout the Group, as it has been growing in Greece and abroad.

Principles

All the activities of Alpha Bank and of the Alpha Bank Group Companies which ultimately aim at the Group's growth and prosperity are governed by principles enforced by the law or by ethics, such as integrity and honesty, impartiality and independence, discretion and confidentiality, conscious, disciplined and reasonable risk-taking, complete, full and truthful disclosure and active contribution to society.

Adherence to the principles governing the Bank's operations and its corporate social responsibility practices is checked annually by the Management and by the competent Divisions of the Bank. In their daily work, Employees comply with the provisions of the Bank's Code of Ethics, which encompasses the Bank's values, guidelines and requirements with respect to responsibility and professional conduct. In parallel, the Bank ensures its full alignment with the applicable laws and pays due respect to the fundamental principles of the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Conventions of the International Labour Organisation. Finally, through its participation in the UN Environment Programme Finance Initiative (UNEP FI), undertaken by banks and financial organisations around the world to promote sustainable development, the Bank is incorporating the relevant environmental principles in its financial activities.

Corporate Governance

The strict application of the principles of Corporate Governance, as defined in applicable laws and in the other widely recognised codes and voluntary standards, is a key pillar of the operation of Alpha Bank. These principles determine the Bank's administration, operation and control, safeguard the interests of its Shareholders and other stakeholders, and ensure transparency in its operations.

Alpha Bank adopted in 1994 and has since been applying the principles of Corporate Governance, seeking to ensure transparency in the communications with its Shareholders and to provide investors with prompt and continuous information. In this context, the Bank adopted the separation of the Chairman's duties from those of the Managing Director - CEO and the independence of the majority of the Members of its Board of Directors. It has also established a Compliance Division and has adopted a Corporate Governance Code and a Code of Ethics, developed to promote the standards required by modern corporate governance and to enhance the effectiveness of Internal Control rules.

The Management of the Bank is exercised by the Board of Directors, the Managing Director - CEO, the General Managers, the Executive General Managers, the Executive Committee and the Operations Committee. The Managing Director - CEO administrates, manages and represents the Bank. He also supervises, coordinates and directs the Bank and the Group. The Executive Committee is the Bank's highest executive body. It convenes at least once a week and is chaired by the Managing Director - CEO. Participations in the Executive Committee include the General Managers and the Committee's Secretary. As and when required and depending on the items on the agenda, other Executives or Members of the Management of Group Companies also attend. The Executive Committee carries out a review of the domestic and international economy and of market developments, and examines business planning and policy issues. Furthermore, the Committee deliberates on issues relating to the development of the Group and proposes the Rules and Regulations of the Bank and the budget and balance sheet of each Business Unit. Finally, it proposes the Human Resources policy and the participation of the Bank or of Group Companies in other companies. The Operations Committee convenes at least once a week and is chaired by the Managing Director- CEO. Participations in this Committee include the General Managers, the Executive General Managers and the Committee's Secretary. As and when required and depending on the items on the agenda, other Executives or Members of the Management of Group Companies also attend. The Operations Committee carries out a review of the market and of the economic activity sectors and examines the course of business and the results of new products. It decides on the Network and Group development policy and formulates the credit policy. Finally, it decides on the management of liquidity, the level of interest rates and the Terms and Conditions for deposits, loans and transactions. Further details on the mechanisms which ensure Alpha Bank's effective, transparent and responsible Corporate Governance, including administration and supervision as well as risk management, can be found in the Bank's Corporate Governance Code, in its annual Business Reviews and on its website (www.alpha.gr).

The Corporate Governance and Nominations Committee, which was established on 27.06.2014, ensures that the composition, structure and operation of the Board of Directors meet all legal, supervisory and regulatory requirements, pursues the application of international corporate governance best practices, formulates the nomination policy regarding candidate Members of the Board of Directors and submits relevant recommendations to the Board of Directors. It ensures the nomination of candidate Members of the Board of Directors through an effective and transparent procedure, establishes the conditions required for securing smooth succession and continuity in the Board of Directors and supervises the application of all the above policies and practices as well as their implementation procedures.

The Corporate Governance Code sets out the framework and the guidelines for the governance of the Bank and is revised by the Board of Directors. The Code's last revision, which took place in July 2014, incorporated as Annexes to the Code the Rules and Regulations of the Audit Committee, Risk Management Committee, Remuneration Committee and Corporate Governance and Nominations Committee of the Board of Directors.

The Corporate Governance Code of Alpha Bank also defines the duties and the allocation of responsibilities between the Board of Directors, the Board Committees, the Executive Committee and the other Committees of the Bank, and is published on the Bank's website.

The Bank's performance and policies in relation to environmental and social issues and matters of Corporate Governance, as well as the management of matters concerning sustainability in general, are determined by the Board of Directors based on the recommendations submitted by the competent Divisions. The Code of Ethics describes the Bank's commitments and practices regarding its activities, its management and the rules of conduct that apply to its Officers and Administrative Employees not only in their interactions with each other but also with contractual parties and with the Shareholders. The application of the Code of Ethics and of the principles of Corporate Governance, together with the operation of the Audit Committee, the Risk Management Committee, the Remuneration Committee and the Corporate Governance and Nominations Committee, have allowed Alpha Bank to enhance effectively the principles of integrity and transparency in its operations and to ensure optimal management of risk.

The Bank attaches great importance to matters of ethics and transparency and has in place clear rules and regulations, established by Acts of the General Management and by the Staff Regulations, regarding matters such as the protection of personal data, the prohibition for Officers and Administrative Employees to accept gifts in the course of performing their official duties, and potential cases of conflict of interests in conducting transactions.

Finally, the Marketing and Public Relations Division is responsible for supporting, through its Corporate Social Responsibility Section, the Management of the Bank on matters of corporate social responsibility and sustainable development strategy and the implementation of related actions.

Risk Management

The Bank attaches particular importance to the identification, measurement and management of the risks undertaken and has assigned these tasks to the Risk Management Business Unit, which reports to the General Manager and Chief Risk Officer (CRO) of the Group, to the Risk Management Committee and, through the latter, to the Bank's Board of Directors.

The effective management of all types of risk focuses on accurate and effective risk measurement using specialised methodologies and calculation models, as well as on the introduction of various policies and limits, through which the Bank's exposure to the various risks is controlled.

The Operational Risk Committee convenes at regular intervals or at such other times as circumstances require and ensures that appropriate procedures, methodologies and infrastructures for managing the operational risk to the Group are in place, approving at the same time proposals on credit risk mitigation.

The Credit Risk Committee convenes at regular intervals, assesses the adequacy and effectiveness of the Bank and Group policies for credit risk management and decides on the planning of the corrective actions required. The Bank has ensured its full alignment with the requirements of the institutional framework regarding troubled assets.

In addition, the General Management monitors any environmental, social or governance risks and is regularly briefed on matters pertaining to the management of risk.

It should be noted that in the context of the efforts - which involve all levels of the organisation's hierarchy - to keep strengthening the risk management functions, the Bank and the Group Companies have given priority to the definition of a set of standards, rules and procedures in accordance with international best practices on risk management, with a view to incorporating in the decision-making process for business financing approvals criteria that reflect the effort to achieve a balance between profitability, sustainable development, good governance, respect for human rights, environmental consistency and social responsibility.

Moreover, the Bank and the Group Companies have developed and are applying a strict credit policy implementation framework (legal and supervisory/regulatory), on which the Retail Banking credit policy and procedures are based. This framework allows the prudent management of financing resources, the correct selection of Customers (individuals and small businesses) using specific credit criteria, and the establishment of the risk-to-profitability relationship by suitably adjusting the pricing policy and by obtaining collateral as security for the credit granted, also taking into consideration the level of credit risk involved.

In the case of risks with a strong social and environmental bias, the upgraded role of the risk management function will guarantee the safe operation and sustained profitability of the Bank, will strengthen its organisational structures, policies and procedures and will have a major impact on its business operation model.

Capital Adequacy

Alpha Bank's policy is to maintain a robust capital base to safeguard the Group's development and retain the trust of Depositors, Shareholders, markets and business partners.

The capital adequacy is supervised by the ECB's Single Supervisory Mechanism, to which reports are submitted on a quarterly basis. On 1 January 2014, Directive 2013/36/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June, and Regulation 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 ("CRD IV") entered into effect, gradually introducing the new capital adequacy framework for credit institutions, in accordance with Basel III.

The minimum ratios (common equity, Tier 1 capital and capital adequacy) for the Bank are set by an act of the Executive Committee of the Bank of Greece. The capital adequacy ratio compares the Bank's regulatory capital with the risks assumed by the Bank (risk-weighted assets).

The Group's capital adequacy ratios on 31.12.2014 are shown in the following table:

Quantitative Data

Group Ratio	31/12/2014
Tier I Capital Ratio	14.2%
Common Equity Tier I Ratio	14.2%
Leverage Ratio	10.21%

It is pointed out that, as part of banking operations, the implementation of environmental and social policies, products and services lies within the Audit Universe of the Bank, in which risks are assessed annually, in accordance with the relevant methodology of the Group.

These risk assessments are carried out in accordance with the International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing.

Identification of Material Issues

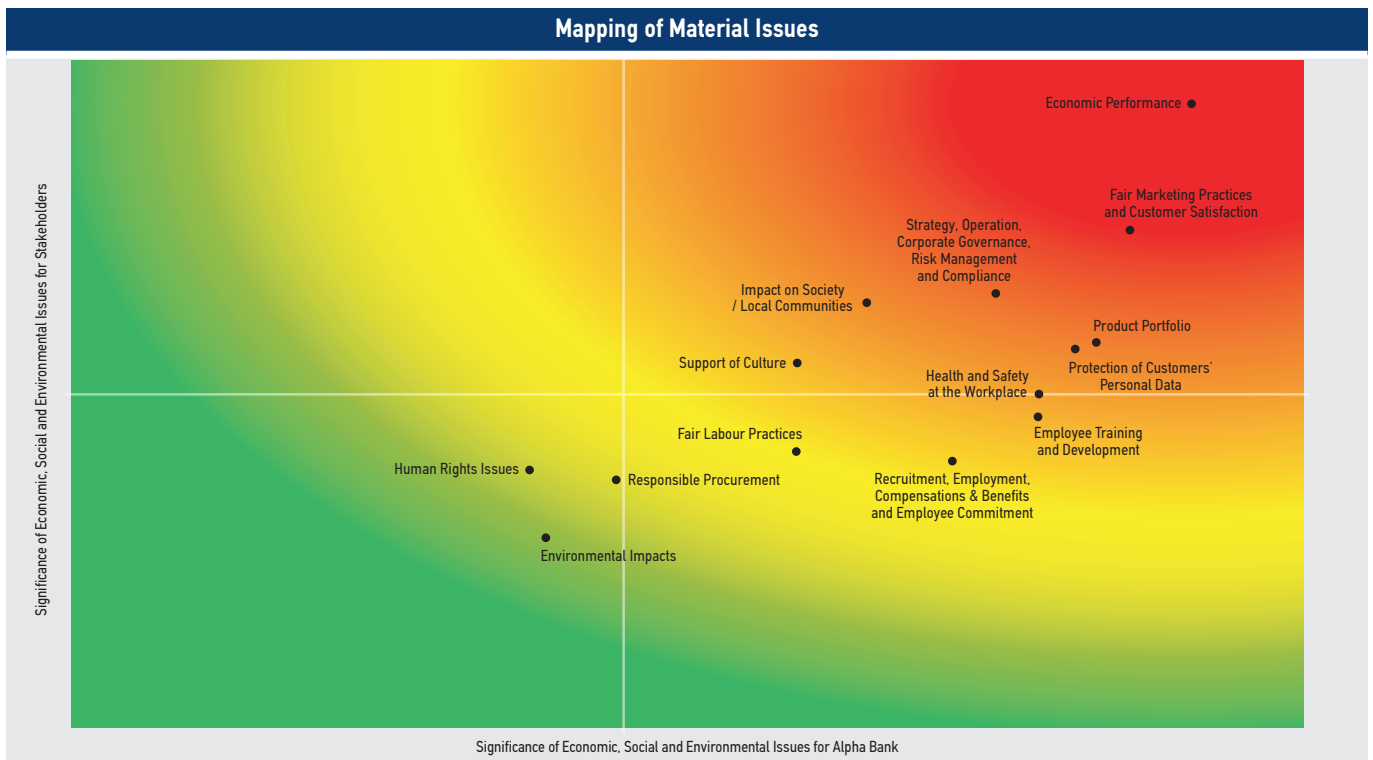

In 2014, Alpha Bank enhanced the process for the identification and mapping of the most important issues for the Bank’s responsible operation (Materiality Analysis).

The Corporate Social Responsibility Section proceeded to the initial identification of potential material issues for the Bank’s sustainable operation. These were obtained by the G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) organisation, drawing also on the Financial Services Sector Supplement (FSSS) and on information from the Bank’s participation in associations such as the Hellenic Network for CSR, the Bank’s internal and external environment and its interactions with Stakeholder groups.

In addition, the following four key principles for defining Report content, as set down by the GRI G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines, were also taken into account: (1) Stakeholder inclusiveness, (2) Sustainability Context, (3) Materiality and (4) Completeness.

In October 2014, a Materiality Analysis Workshop was held, attended by 23 Executives from 18 Divisions of the Bank, in which participants were briefed on the materiality analysis process and were invited to identify and prioritise 49 issues, taking into account the significance of their impact on the Bank. In addition, in order to include the views of Stakeholders as input to the materiality analysis exercise, the Bank asked the representatives of the above Divisions, who frequently interact with the identified Stakeholders (see next Section), to map out the latter’s views, without holding a formal external consultation process with the Stakeholders themselves.

The Corporate Social Responsibility Section processed the results of the above process and grouped the issues in terms of significance. The final results have been validated by the General Management and are shown in the following figure:

The present Report contains information on all of the Bank's activities in Greece in the market, environment and social contribution domains. Extensive reference, however, is made to the issues in the upper right-hand quadrant of the material issues mapping chart, which are characterised as "material" for the Bank's responsible operation.

Major Developments in 2014

- Exceptional performance by Alpha Bank in the European Central Bank’s Stress Test. On October 26, 2014, the results of the Comprehensive Assessment carried out by the European Central Bank in collaboration with the national Regulatory Authorities were published. The purpose of the Assessment was to assess the capability of the European Union’s banking sector to absorb significant economic and financial shocks and, in parallel, to strengthen banking sector stability in the EU and in the euro area.

The European Central Bank carried out a particularly extensive test of 130 significant European banking groups, which involved the evaluation of the banks’ loans and the stress-testing of key balance sheet items, based on two scenarios: the baseline scenario, which adopts the current macroeconomic estimates, and the adverse scenario, which incorporates extreme risks relating to a significant deterioration in macroeconomic conditions (unemployment, level of real estate property prices etc.). The test covered the four largest Greek banking groups (Alpha Bank, National Bank of Greece, EFG Eurobank, Piraeus Bank), which account for more than 90% of the Greek banking system’s total assets.

For Alpha Bank, the results were extremely positive. More specifically, in both the baseline scenario and the adverse scenario, the Bank was evaluated as particularly “healthy”, with more than adequate capital, and was ranked first among all Greek banks and as one of the 25 best European banking groups.

- Alpha Bank was the first to welcome the China UnionPay cards in Greece.
- On 13 June 2014, the Bank completed the acquisition of Citibank’s Retail Banking operations in Greece.
- Alpha Bank added Diners Club to the largest cards family in Greece (Global Partner Meeting Diners Club International).

 - To establish the appropriate conditions for the full repayment of the preference shares issued by the Bank and owned by the Hellenic Republic.
 - To meet the marginal capital needs that resulted from the diagnostic assessment mandated by the Bank of Greece.
 - To improve the quality of the Bank’s regulatory capital and accelerate its adjustment to the new Basel III regulatory framework.
 - To facilitate the Bank’s financing by the international capital markets given its enhanced credit profile.
- Alpha Bank and Vodafone, in cooperation with Visa and First Data Hellas, introduced for the first time in Greece, the “Tap ‘n Pay” application, the first contactless payment application for mobile phones (mobile payments). This innovative transaction method allows daily purchases to be made easily, quickly and securely, using contactless communication technology.
- In July, the European Commission (Directorate-General Competition) approved the Bank’s Restructuring Plan, whose actions include the rationalisation of operating expenses and of the cost of deposits in Greece, the further strengthening of the balance sheet, the downsizing of international operations and the reinforcement of the risk management and monitoring framework.

Alpha Bank is a member of this Initiative since January 2007 and since 2012 is represented in its Social Issues Advisory Group.

Through its participation in UNEP FI, the Bank forms part of an international network of leading financial organisations, follows current trends, tools and practices in Corporate Social Responsibility and is able to engage in two-way communication and dialogue with major organisations across the world.

Additionally, in line with the European Guidelines which place emphasis on issues of social importance such as human rights (UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights), UNEP FI, in operation with a law firm, has developed and is conducting since 2013 research in order to determine the way in which the banking sector is linked to the human rights issues, as well as the way in which potential related risks may be diagnosed, mitigated or eliminated. It should be noted that Alpha Bank is the only Greek Bank to support this activity as a sponsor. The results of the research will also contribute to the harmonisation of banks with the International Principles on Human Rights in businesses (UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights)

Global Sustain: This organisation provides innovative solutions and services addressing Corporate Social Responsibility, the Green Economy and development. Its members include companies, non-profit organisations, public entities, educational institutions, societies and other private- and public-sector organisations. In the context of this cooperation, Alpha Bank in 2014 sponsored, for yet another year, the Sustainability Forum event. Through nine specialised workshops and three plenary sessions, the Sustainability Forum 2014 event presented sustainability issues of crucial significance which are currently at the centre of global interest and thus expected to have a strong impact on companies and organisations in the short term.

Hellenic Network for Corporate Social Responsibility: The "Hellenic Network for Corporate Social Responsibility" is a business-driven membership non-profit organisation, whose mission is to promote the meaning of Corporate Social Responsibility to both the business community and the social environment. Since 2012 the Bank is represented in a working group (which also includes representatives from other member companies) tasked with developing a Guide to Responsible Entrepreneurship, addressed primarily to Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises. Through its participation in this working group, the Bank seeks to contribute to the advancement of the know-how on CSR and to the enhancement of the dialogue on social responsibility. The Guide to Responsible Entrepreneurship was completed in 2014.

Global Reporting Initiative (GRI): During 2014, as part of its activities to support and strengthen education in Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainability, and to improve the quality of the CSR Reports published, the Bank sponsored the translation into Greek of the new version of the GRI G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines. Alpha Bank Executives participated in the work group established for rendering the Guidelines into Greek, a task expected to be completed during 2015.

Sustainable Development Committee of the Hellenic Bank Association (HBA): The Bank is a member of this Committee, whose tasks are: (a) to formulate positions and opinions for Greek Banks on issues concerning the protection of the environment and sustainable development; (b) to facilitate the collaboration of the Financial Sector with the United Nations Environment Programme Finance Initiative (UNEP FI); (c) to represent the Greek Banks in Working Groups and in promotional and information events, as well as on other issues of interest to the banking sector which are related to the environment and to sustainable development.

In the context of the activities of HBA's Sustainable Development Committee, Alpha Bank participates in the work on subjects related to Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainable Development. In particular, during 2014:

(a) Corporate Social Responsibility: HBA cooperates bilaterally with the Hellenic Network for CSR, in order to promote the institution of CSR to Greek businesses. In this context, the Bank, through HBA, participated actively both in the public consultation for the preparation of the National Action Plan for CSR and in the relevant information day organised by the Ministry of Commerce, submitting its proposals/views on the subject.

(b) Sustainable Greece 2020: HBA participates as a founding member in the above Initiative, which aims to advance Sustainable Development, whose purpose is to promote sustainable development in line with the key guidelines and priorities introduced by the European Commission, which provide for a balanced growth between economic development, social cohesion and environmental protection. The Initiative is implemented by the QualityNet Foundation in partnership with the major business associations in Greece, among which HBA. In this context, HBA, through its representative, who is also the Coordinator of HBA's Sustainable Development Committee, participates in the Special Working Group that will prepare the Greek Sustainability Code, which is based on the corresponding Sustainability Code of the German Council for Sustainable Development.

(c) UNEP FI: The Greek translation of the UNEP FI Guide to Banking and Sustainability will be issued under the auspices of HBA. In parallel, a seminar by the Hellenic Banking Institute on related matters, addressed to Bank executives, is also planned.

Together for the Market

Alpha Bank Group offers a wide range of high-quality financial products and services including retail banking, medium-sized business and corporate banking, asset management and private banking, insurance products, investment banking, brokerage and real estate management. Detailed information about the Bank's areas of activity, products and services is given in its annual Business Review and on its corporate website, at www.alpha.gr.

With the acquisition of Citibank's Retail Banking operations in Greece, in 2014 Alpha Bank took one more step towards attaining the ambitious goals which have been set for several years, which are to address the banking needs of its Customers in a responsible manner, having in mind the interests of its Shareholders and Employees and the need to contribute to the efforts for the recovery of the Greek economy. This acquisition follows after the successful acquisition of Emporiki Bank in 2013 and reaffirms Alpha Bank as the "Bank of Choice" for Customers in the affluent and mass affluent segments. With the acquisition of Citibank's Retail Banking operations in Greece, Alpha Bank is looking forward to leveraging Citibank's specialisation in Wealth Management operations and to expanding the range of Alpha Bank products and services offered in the market. In this way, Customers have at their disposal an expanded portfolio of high value-added products and services.

The Bank develops and offers products and services in response to the needs of the modern economic environment, taking also into consideration economic, social and environmental factors.

This section of the Report presents Alpha Bank's overall approach and the specific products and services it offers in line with its commitment to sustainable development. The complete products and services of the Bank are listed on its corporate website, at www.alpha.gr.

Support of Households

In 2014, the Bank sustained its strong performance in the consumer credit market, focusing on supporting its Customers through the Alpha Facilitation Programme. This Programme offers to the Bank's borrowers and cardholders support and assistance in order to better plan and control their debt repayments. To do so, the Programme gives priority to the reduction of monthly instalments and to the establishment of a feasible repayment plan for debtors.

In parallel, the Bank strengthened its position in the market for loans for the purchase of cars, household appliances etc., which posted a considerable growth. These loans cover basic consumer needs and are offered with particularly favourable repayment terms. Disbursements for these loans in 2014 stood at approximately Euro 100 million.

During 2014, the Bank also continued to offer to its Customers the Alpha Green Solutions line of loan products (Energy Saving Home, Green Transport etc.). These Programmes have been developed to provide Customers with the opportunity to contribute to the protection of the environment and, at the same time, to also upgrade their quality of life.

The Alpha Green Solutions - Energy Saving Home loan finances repair or renovation works to improve the energy efficiency of the Customers' homes (such as thermal insulation works, purchase or installation of thermal insulating frames/glass panels, replacement of old boiler systems etc.). As for the Alpha Green Solutions - Green Transport loan, this finances 100% of the purchase value of hybrid technology vehicles, thus helping achieve greater fuel savings and reduce the burden to the environment.

In parallel, the Bank is continuing its cooperation with the Ministry of Environment, Energy and Climate Change (YPEKA), under which the Bank offers the "Energy Efficiency at Household Buildings" Programme, which is subsidised by the Hellenic Fund for Entrepreneurship and Development (ETEAN). The Bank's support of this Programme promotes environmental awareness while also offering exceptionally low-cost loans with flexible repayment terms for upgrading the energy performance of private homes.

Finally, the Bank continues to offer a personal loan, addressed specifically to students-holders of Alpha 1|2|3 accounts for Young People aged 18-27, to help them cover current needs such as tuition fees, household equipment etc.

Support of Businesses

Throughout 2014, the prolonged recession continued to result in increasing difficulties for businesses to meet their loan repayment obligations. The Bank considers Small Businesses to be the key growth drivers for economic growth and, as a result, sought to assist them in their efforts for recovery, always taking into account the commercial viability of their respective business plans.

On 31.12.2014, the total balance of loans disbursed to Small Businesses stood at Euro 5.64 billion.

In line with the statutory requirement for full harmonisation of settlement products with the standard definitions introduced by Executive Committee Act no. 42/30.5.2014 of the Bank of Greece, Alpha Bank developed and placed to the market the new, unified “Alpha Support” line of products, whose aim is to help expedite the resolution process for Small Business portfolios. This new line of products is addressed to individuals and legal entities alike.

With the “Alpha Support” line of products, the Bank seeks to improve the quality of its business financing portfolio and to arrive at viable solutions regarding the settlement of the debts of its business Customers, which will be commensurate to their financial capabilities, enabling them to smoothly service these debts, especially during periods of increased financial obligations or potential unforeseen expenses.

In parallel, the Bank also seeks to support Small Businesses which may be in temporary financial difficulty, enabling them to continue their business activity and of contributing to the efforts to maintain jobs.

In June 2014, the Bank promoted to the market its “Flexible Contractual Entrepreneurship Programmes”, developed in order to support the primary sector of the economy and assist all healthy production-related business efforts of Greek agricultural producers. The Bank’s strategy in this area focuses on financing the transaction cycle of agricultural production, covering the entire chain of related activities, from production and processing to the export of agricultural products. Thus, the Bank seeks to help the establishment of mutually profitable partnerships between the agricultural producers and the buyer businesses active in agriculture-related sectors.

The Bank’s role in these Programmes is twofold, as it ensures:

- For agricultural producers, the provision of financing to cover cultivation costs, so that they are able to produce the quantities of agricultural products which the buyer businesses have agreed in advance to absorb at predefined prices and in accordance with the agreed quality specifications.
- For the buyer business, an advance guarantee of the quantities of agricultural products they require, so that they can apply their commercial policies, with the Bank supplying the liquidity they require in order to promptly and punctually pay the producers upon the delivery of their products.

Moreover, the “Flexible Contractual Entrepreneurship Programmes” represent an initiative of strategic significance for the Bank, as they contribute to:

- The development of cross selling opportunities for other banking products and services to the associated businesses active in the trade of farm supplies (installation of POS terminals, e-banking solutions etc.).
- The attraction of deposits and transactions from farmers and agriculture-related businesses.
- The modernisation of the agricultural economy’s transaction cycle and the rational organisation of the associated businesses.

In the second half of 2014, the Bank announced, by means of relevant Press Releases, the conclusion of the first eight partnerships with the following export-oriented businesses active in the trade, processing and distribution of agricultural products.

Additionally, in 2014 Alpha Bank completed successfully its operational and IT integration with Emporiki Bank and continued to promote the “Alpha in Business” line of flexible loans to all its business Customers, in order to respond effectively to new applications for financing short-term requirements in working capital and/or investments in business premises and equipment. The Bank also continued its activities regarding the management of its portfolio of loans to Small Businesses, through targeted assignments to the Branch Network aimed at providing borrowers with flexible solutions to meet their needs in the light of the new conditions in the market.

At the same time, in line with its proactive environmental policy, Alpha Bank continued to support environment-friendly investments through the “Alpha Green Solutions – Eco-Friendly Business” and “Alpha Eco Business” products for financing the energy upgrade of business premises and the installation of photovoltaic systems with a maximum output of 10 kw (“Eco-Friendly Business”) and investments in photovoltaic parks with a maximum output of 500 kw (“Eco Business”). On 31.12.2014, the Small Businesses Banking Division’s financing portfolio for “green” investments stood at a total of Euro 21.8 million.

Co-Funded Investment Programmes

The Bank remains committed to its strategic goal of lending substantial support to entrepreneurship and of strengthening the competitiveness of Greek SMEs. This is amply demonstrated by the fact that Alpha Bank remains, for several years now, the bank of first choice for European and Greek State agencies wishing to successfully promote corresponding Co-Funded Development Programmes.

By participating in these Investment Programmes, the Bank secures favourable financing terms for SMEs and helps them obtain access to liquidity by taking advantage of the opportunities emerging in the market, especially during a period of difficult economic conditions for Greek businesses. This is all the more so considering that during 2014 the active European co-funded Programmes and the related funds available were thin on the ground.

In line with its philosophy, Alpha Bank participates dynamically in the promotion of the following Actions offered by the Hellenic Fund for Entrepreneurship and Development (ETEAN S.A.):

- The “Entrepreneurship Fund – Business Restarting” Action, under which co-funded loans subsidised at 50% are made available to SMEs in the form of loans for Fixed Assets and Working Capital. In total, 736 such loan applications representing a budget of Euro 137.86 million were approved under this Action during 2014, with total disbursements on 31.12.2014 standing at Euro 96.77 million.

- The “ENTREPRENEURSHIP FUND - Guarantee Fund” Action, which offers to SMEs loans guaranteed up to 80% by ETEAN for financing investment plans and working capital for business development activities, against assignment of the corresponding subsidy amount as security. In total, 96 such loan applications representing a budget of Euro 30.28 million were approved under this Action during 2014, with total disbursements on 31.12.2014 standing at Euro 21.37 million.

Moreover, in December 2014, drawing on its successful collaboration with the European Investment Fund (EIF) for the promotion of the JEREMIE (Joint European Resources for Micro to Medium Enterprises) Programmes, Alpha Bank negotiated and secured the provision of the new JEREMIE FRFSI Programme for 2015. Through this Programme, the Bank will offer to SMEs interest-free co-funded loans subsidised at 50% for financing their investment and business development plans as well as their needs in working capital, thereby increasing the range of financing options available to them.

In addition, Alpha Bank, in collaboration with the Export Credit Insurance Organisation (ECIO) continued to promote the “Extroversion” Insurance Programme to exporting firms. Exporters under this Programme, after first taking out with the ECIO an insurance policy with a coverage up to 80% against non-payment risk by the foreign import firms, apply to the Bank for access to financing of up to Euro 1 million, available through the “Alpha Exports Development” product, in the form of a loan with very favourable repayment terms and without the requirement for tangible collateral. The Bank’s key goals for the year ahead remain the same – i.e. to strengthen the competitiveness of Greek exporting firms and to help them expand their export activities.

Alpha Bank also evaluated and approved for financing numerous investment plans, leading to the inclusion of the corresponding projects under some form of aid (Investment Incentives Law, the Programmes managed by the Intermediate Body of the Operational Programme “Competitiveness & Entrepreneurship” [EFEPAE] etc.), in the form of short-term loans granted against assignment of the corresponding subsidy as security. The Bank also played a key part in monitoring these projects through to completion.

The above Investment Programmes are addressed to solvent SMEs from virtually all sectors of the economy, which seek to expand their operations and strengthen their position in their corresponding markets. They provide them with an alternative source of financing in the form of appropriate financing tools offered with particularly favourable terms which are attractive for businesses.

Finally, it should be mentioned here that 55 transactions totalling approximately Euro 1.5 billion, i.e. 21% of the loan portfolio of the Corporate Banking Division, were carried out during 2014 for Large Corporate Customers of the Bank. These transactions involved amendments to existing loans or the establishment of new ones. On 31.12.2014, the total balance of loans under management by the Corporate Banking Division stood at Euro 9.5 billion including Letters of Guarantee and Documentary Letters of Credit.

Investments through Foreign Mutual Funds (UCITS): International Perspectives with Social Aspects

Alpha Bank’s international partnerships through Alpha Private Bank, which for many years now has adopted an open architecture philosophy in its operation, were further expanded with the recent acquisition of Citibank’s Retail Banking operations in Greece and with the operation of the Alpha Bank Gold Personal Banking service. Thus, Alpha Bank currently represents 17 of the world’s leading investment firms, offering access to more than 1,500 investment choices in UCITS (Undertakings for Collective Investments in Transferable Securities), also known as Luxembourg Mutual Funds, since most of them are registered there, whilst a relative small number of them are registered in Ireland (SICAVs). The investment choices available cover literally the entire planet, as well as every investment profile, with investors having at their disposal a structured advisory guidance towards a smaller set of rigorously assessed options, with the aim of achieving returns but also the best possible management of risk (guided open architecture). It should be noted that in seeking controlled-risk returns, efforts are made to combine these with social responsibility. In this context, some of the most interesting current investments through UCITS, support – in terms of both geography and themes – the empowerment of lower social classes in the developing economies and/or industries with significant positive impact on the whole of humanity.

Examples of such geographic investments which are worth mentioning are emerging countries and regions such as India, Latin America and the new frontier markets such as Nigeria or Vietnam. Alpha Private Bank Customers investing in equity UCITS have realised significant gains by investing in these countries, seeking primarily to secure returns, which results in strengthening a considerable number of main listed companies in their Stock Exchanges, which secure employment for a large part of the population. Investors in emerging markets bond UCITS have also realised gains from investing in high-return bonds, while at the same time supporting sovereign borrowing by absorbing the government bonds of the respective States. The globalisation of investments may achieve the original purpose, which is to achieve returns and take effective advantage of the opportunities offered, but also to assist economically weaker regions of the planet. On an yet more specialised level, two special UCITS out of the 17 investment firms that we currently represent are worth mentioning here: the first one invests in the shares of companies serving internal consumption in Asia and the second one in small capitalisation companies in emerging markets. A common result of investing in these two UCITS is the possibility to achieve considerable returns, as well as to strengthen companies, primarily small- and mid-cap ones, which are the basis of the productive fabric in developing economies.

Examples of the breadth of themed investments which in tandem with achieving returns also assist the evolution of human life, are investments through UCITS in sectors such as biotechnology, generic medicines and medical technology. Investments of this type, available through UCITS and through Alpha Bank’s international partnerships, have brought significant gains to investors and, at the same time, have strengthened companies whose primary object is research and development. The new clean and renewable energy sources, the companies active in wastewater treatment and the investments in potable water, probably the single most important scarce commodity on the planet, belong to another major theme, that of green investments. Another example of themed investments is that of global safety, with a particular UCITS investing in listed companies, mainly technology ones, which guarantee the safety of our daily activities – such as using any modern means of transport – or even transnational security, and excluding from its portfolio organisations involved in armaments.

Responsible Investments

Environment – Renewable Energy Sources (RES)

Alpha Bank has a specialised Project Finance Unit, staffed by experienced Executives, which works exclusively on securing financing for investments in RES projects. Over the last five years, the Bank has financed RES investments with a total budget in excess of Euro 1 billion, a result which clearly affirms its dominant position in this sector. New financing arrangements involve projects that use environment-friendly technologies, replace old and polluting units (e.g. oil units) and directly help reduce air pollutant emissions.

The Bank contributes actively to the efforts to achieve the national target of a RES penetration of 20% in final electricity consumption.

In 2014, the Bank continued its successful activities, offering financing for new investments in wind farms, in electricity production from biomass and natural gas, and in High-Efficiency Combined Heat and Power (CHP) Plants.

Additionally, the investments financed rely on domestic sources of energy and help reduce dependence on depletable conventional energy resources. They also strengthen the security of energy supply at the national level and contribute to the efforts for rational utilisation of the country's energy resources.

On 31.12.2014 the total balances of loans under management by the Project Finance Unit for RES projects stood at Euro 250 million, accounting for over 36% of the Unit's total loan balances and attesting the Bank's strategic focus on financing RES projects.

Furthermore, during 2014 the Project Finance Unit organised more than Euro 115 million of financing for RES projects, helping projects representing more than 120 MW of total installed capacity and with a total budget in excess of Euro 200 million, proceed to implementation in 2015.

Environment – Waste Management

The Project Finance Unit also has significant expertise in Public-Private Partnerships (PPPs). Thus, during 2014 Alpha Bank continued to provide exclusive Financial Advisor services to the contractor for the largest waste management project in Greece and one of the most important such projects in the EU (Peloponnese Region Waste Management PPP).

Once completed, the project will provide an immediate solution, based on leading-edge technology, to the acute problem of waste management in the Peloponnese Region. In particular:

- Uncontrolled waste disposal areas are rehabilitated, setting right a bad practice that incurred dozens of millions of Euro in fines over the recent years.
- The natural environment is fully upgraded and protected.
- Recycling is maximised and the quantities of waste destined for disposal at landfills are significantly reduced.
- The citizens' quality of life is improved and public health is fully protected.

Education and Training

In 2014, the Project Finance Unit organised two highly successful syndicated loans for PPP projects, with a budget of Euro 110 million, for construction and technical management of 22 public schools in Attica (i.e. in Kato Patissia, Komoundourou, Akadimia Platonos, Sepolia, Megara, Koropi, Ilion, Keratsini, Nea Penteli, Gerakas, Peristeri, Oropos, Neo Iraklio and other local districts), serving more than 6,000 school students.

These financing arrangements mobilised funds from the European Investment Bank as well as from the JESSICA Urban Development Fund for the Region of Attica and received the "Deal of the Year" award from the internationally acknowledged "World Finance" magazine.

Infrastructure

In the infrastructure sector, the Unit participates actively in syndicated loan arrangements for all road axes in Greece which are constructed under concession contracts, with the Bank's participation in these arrangements currently standing at Euro 305 million.

These projects have greatly improved road safety for thousands of users, thanks to the significant reduction in the number of road accidents. The security specifications of the respective contracts comply with the strictest European safety standards and with the World Bank's framework on the environmental and social risk in large projects (IFC – Equator Principles Framework).

Additional Responsible Products and Services

Social contribution services

Alpha Bank's Bonus points redemption programme was continued during 2014. This Programme offers to Bonus, Gold Visa and American Express (Membership Rewards Programme) cardholders the opportunity to redeem the points they have collected using the Loyalty Programme of their credit cards and to aid the work of various Foundations. The total amount made available to the Foundations participating in the Programme stood at Euro 96,960. Public benefit foundations participating in the Programme include MDA (MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY ASSOCIATION), UNICEF, PEDIATRIC TRAUMA CARE SOCIETY, MEDICINS DU MONDE, MEDICINS SANS FRONTIERES, LIFE LINE HELLAS, CEREBRAL PALSY GREECE, CHILD'S HEART, THERAPY CENTRE FOR DEPENDENT INDIVIDUALS (KETHEA), SOS AUTISM CENTRE, TOGETHER FOR CHILDREN, SOS CHILDREN'S VILLAGES GREECE, GREEK ALLIANCE FOR RARE DISEASES, SIKIARIDEIO FOUNDATION, YOUNG WOMEN'S EDUCATION SOCIETY (SEN), "TO ERGASTIRI" ("THE WORKSHOP") - ASSOCIATION OF PARENTS, GUARDIANS AND FRIENDS OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES, "YAYA'S GARDEN" NURSERY, THE SMILE OF THE CHILD, "FLOGA" ("FLAME" - THE ASSOCIATION OF PARENTS OF CHILDREN WITH NEOPLASTIC DISEASES), "AMIMONI", HATZIKYRIAKIO CHILD CARE INSTITUTION.

Moreover, the Bank has provided, for the sixth consecutive year, the possibility for Customers to make donations for social purposes using the Alpha Web Banking and Alpha Phone Banking electronic banking services. Prospective donators may choose out of 63 charitable Foundations and Museums, after first reviewing a summary of the objectives and purposes of their entity of interest. Donations are made easily and swiftly, by debiting a deposit account on the donator's date of choice. The donator decides whether the donation will be anonymous or not. In the latter case, the donator's personal details are communicated to the recipient entity. During 2014, eight new Organisations joined the service, with the total number of donations made through the Bank's alternative banking networks posting a significant increase by 30.27% compared to 2013. Finally, the total amount made available to all the above entities in 2014 stood at Euro 404,623.96.

Customer Service

The Bank's primary goal is to ensure credibility, reliability and efficiency in the provision of banking services. In line with this goal, the continuous monitoring, by means of relevant surveys, of customer service levels and of the quality of the services offered is a key concern for the Bank, especially in the adverse economic conditions that continued to prevail during 2014. On 31.12.2014, the Branch Network numbered 609 Branches (excluding the Commercial Centres and Alpha Private Bank Centres), covered all of Greece and served major conurbations as well as less densely populated and economically robust areas.

Total Branches 609

Of this total number of Branches, 329 are accessible by persons with a disability. In addition, out of the Bank's total number of 1,163 ATMs, 464 offer special settings allowing use by people with vision impairments.

In addition to Greek, the Alpha Bank website is also available in English and the same applies to the Alpha Web Banking, Alpha Mobile Banking and Alphaphone. Similarly, Customers visiting Branches can also be served in English, while the option to choose an English-language interface is offered in all the ATMs of the Bank.

Alternative networks

the year 2014 saw a marked improvement in the Customer's level of usage of the Bank's electronic banking services, as the latter were enriched with new capabilities, such as:

- Expansion of the transactions supported by the e-banking services (Web, Mobile, Phone), with the addition of new payment types and standing orders.
- Expansion of the transactions supported by the Automated Cash Transaction Centres (ACTCs), with the addition of new payment types.
- Loading/Unloading of Prepaid Alpha Bank Cards (Prepaid MasterCard), via Web Banking, ATMs and ACTCs.
- Option to increase the number of interest-free instalments available for payment of debts to the Greek Public Sector.
- Option to manage cards via Alpha Web Banking (reporting theft or loss of card with simultaneous submission of a re-issue request, card activation, change of upper limit for cash withdrawals at ATMs, PIN re-issue).

The upgrades to the above services resulted in the increase by 18.78% (compared to 2013) of the transactions carried out via the Bank's alternative networks (ATMs, ACTCs, Alpha Web Banking, Alphaphone Banking, Alpha Mobile Banking, Alpha Web International Trade, Mass Payments service).

Automated Banking Services

In order to provide Customers with an enhanced level of service and improve the efficiency of the Bank's ATM network while also rationalising the cost of its operation, during 2014 a total of around 220 feasibility studies were carried out concerning requests primarily for off-site ATMs (withdrawals, relocations, new installations, replacements, adjustment of rentals etc). On the basis of these, the Bank installed 22 new ATMs (8 off-site and 14 on-site) and withdrew 97 ones (23 off-site ATM withdrawals and 74 ATM withdrawals due to changes in the Branch Network). Cost-benefit reports were also carried out regarding the operation of all of the Bank's off-site ATMs. Thus, despite the reduction by 6.13% in the total number of ATMs, transactions increased by 3.72%.

To improve Customer service levels and relieve congestion involving payments in cash at the Branches' Teller positions, six (6) new payment types were added to those supported by the Automated Cash Transaction Centres (ACTCs), where transactions increased by 25.77% compared to 2013.

Electronic Banking Services for Individuals and Businesses

The Alpha Web Banking service posted a significant increase by 15.02% in the number of active subscribers, with a corresponding increase in money transactions by 26% compared to 2013.

The rapid uptake of the Alpha Mobile Banking service by the Bank's Customers continued during 2014. The number of active subscribers to the service increased by 33.02%, driving the number of money transactions made using this service up by 60.32% compared to 2013.

In order to better assist Customers with disabilities, the Bank's Customer Service (call centre) is available via an automated interface (IVR) as well as with assistance from specialist Agents, via the Alphaphone Banking Service. Using this service, Customers can carry out the full range of the transactions that are also available via the Alpha Web Banking Service, such as obtaining information about the balance and activity of their accounts and cards, transferring amounts between accounts held with Alpha Bank and other banks in Greece and abroad, paying to the Greek Public Sector, to utilities and other companies etc.

Specialised Electronic Banking Services for Businesses

The "Alpha Web International Trade" electronic service saw an increase by 29.99% in the number of active subscribers and an increase by 8.54% in transactions compared to 2013. Correspondingly, the "Alpha Mass Payments" service for businesses saw an increase by 7.37% in active subscribers.

Finally, the transition of the Alpha e-Commerce service to the new, flexible and efficient Modirum application, which was successfully completed during the year, was accompanied by a significant increase by 23.96% in the number of active subscribers compared to 2013, with transactions increasing by 11.64%.

Protection of Customers' Private Data

The Bank attaches particular importance to the protection of corporate information, which is considered a critical asset. The data of the Bank's Customers are an important part of this information and are protected in compliance with the requirements of the Regulatory Framework as well as with the Bank's internal security principles.

Under approval by the General Management, the Group Information Security Framework was issued, laying down the Information Policy, Procedures and Security Standards. The Bank also introduced the role of the Group Information Security Officer and established the Information Security Division, which handles all information security matters at Group level.

In the last years, the Bank has been taking specific measures, which include special mechanisms and procedures to ensure the protection of information during its entire lifecycle (creation, distribution, use, storage, destruction). These measures include, among others, the following:

- Installation of dedicated document shredders in all the Branches and Head Office Divisions of the Bank for daily shredding of documents and introduction of a procedure for mass destruction of information and magnetic media, such as computer hard disks.
- Use of advanced multi-layer security controls to protect the services offered over the Internet and especially electronic banking services.
- Adoption of a custom Data Leakage Prevention infrastructure to prevent information leakage over the Internet and via e-mail, as well as from the user's terminals.
- Creation of a custom mechanism for user access logging and for protecting systems on which confidential information is stored against unauthorised user access.
- Centralised management of the users' access to systems on the basis of their business role (role - systems - rights).

Finally, particular importance is attached to training and to raising Personnel awareness of security issues. To this end, a special training programme is under way, to ensure that all members of Personnel are fully aware not only of modern threats and the means available for dealing with risk, but also of their obligations regarding the protection of corporate information in their daily work.

Finally, it is pointed out that there is no record of incidents involving data loss under the responsibility of the Bank for 2014.

Customer Satisfaction

Following the transfer to Alpha Bank of Citibank's Retail Banking operations in Greece, including Diners Club Greece, on 1.10.2014 the Bank launched and successfully completed the project for the integration of the two Customer Services, that of the former Citibank Network and that of Alpha Bank, and their relocation to shared premises in an Alpha Bank building at 105, Athinon Avenue. It should be clarified that the integration did not change the complaint submission channels for the Customers for the former Citibank Network or for the Customers of Alpha Bank.

During 2014, a total of 9,460 complaints were submitted to the Bank's Customer Service (Call Centre), increased by 3% compared to 2013 (9,174), with an average resolution time of 24.7 days, against 20.1 days in 2013.

The key categories of complaints concerned cards, Branch Network service quality and housing and consumer loans.

Note: The above figures do not include complaints concerning the former Citibank and Diners Club portfolio.

As part of the efforts to maintain the high quality of the services provided by the Bank, during 2014 the team of ISO Coordinators of the Operation Division's Quality Assurance Unit carried out an internal audit plan. The entities audited included, among others, the Customer Service and First Data Hellas (Customer Service Subcontractor), which were certified in accordance with the ISO 9001:2008 International Standard.

Alpha Bank's primary goal is to ensure credibility, reliability and efficiency in banking services. In line with this goal, the daily concern of the Bank's Employees is to constantly improve the level of products and services and to address all banking needs of Customers in a modern and responsible manner. To this end, the Bank ensures that the principles that govern Customer service and assure Customer satisfaction are communicated in writing or verbally.

In addition, a key means used to identify Customer needs and to measure and enhance Customer satisfaction are the regular surveys carried out.

Finally, in order to ensure that Customers receive full and complete information, the Bank complies with the regulatory framework in force and makes sure that Customers are supplied with the necessary information about the products and services it offers.

Market Survey "Your opinion counts"

An easy-to-use and concise questionnaire is permanently posted on the Bank's website, providing existing and potential Customers with the opportunity to express their views directly and swiftly and to constantly evaluate their customer service experience with the Bank.

The questionnaire is structured, contains standardised closed-ended questions and participants are asked to rate the services they received on a scale from one (1) to five (5), with one (1) corresponding to the lowest and five (5) to the highest satisfaction.

It should be pointed out that 2014 saw an increase by 21% in the number of respondents to this questionnaire compared to 2013, (2014: 7,201 respondents, 2013: 5,939 respondents), which shows the need to ensure that operations remain focused on the provision of optimal service to the Bank's Customers.

The results of the survey strengthen Alpha Bank's position as the "Bank of first choice", despite the difficult economic conditions. In particular, the overall customer service offered by Alpha Bank is considered as "very satisfactory", with an average rating of four (4). The majority of the participants in the survey states that they will continue to use the Alpha Bank services and would recommend it to other people.

Satisfaction Survey of Customers Submitting Complaints

In the context of the application of the Quality Management System in accordance with the ISO 9001:2008 International Standard, the ISO Coordinators of the Quality Assurance Unit carried out, on behalf of the Bank's Customer Service (Call Centre), a satisfaction survey of Alpha Bank Customers submitting complaints.

The survey was conducted according to the data specifications foreseen in the "Satisfaction Survey" documented procedure of the Quality Management System, was primary and qualitative, and was developed using information drawn from the database of the Data Collection and Analysis Section of the Quality Assurance Unit, thus securing the validity and reliability of the relevant information.

The method chosen to conduct this survey, which concerned unique complaints handled by Customer Service in the period from 4.9.2014 to 19.10.2014, involved telephone interviews and sending out a questionnaire by e-mail.

The questionnaire followed the structured format, contained seven closed-ended questions and respondents were asked to provide rated responses on a scale from one (1) to five (5), with one (1) standing for «Not Satisfied at All» and five (5) standing for «Completely Satisfied». Respondents were also asked to provide their own Proposal for Improvement of the Bank's operations, using an open field included in the questionnaire for this purpose.

The combination of closed-ended questions and an open field helped obtain homogeneous responses, which resulted in data analysis ease and speed, and allowed a more detailed and in-depth analysis of the survey data.

The sample selected consisted of complaining Customers who were recipients of the Call Centre's specific services and products and whose cases had been fully settled (closed cases) during the above period. The sample consisted of 153 answers out of a total of 967 unique complaints who had submitted complaints, i.e. represented a share of 16%.

The overall satisfaction of the average Customer who has submitted a complaint to Alpha Bank is considered "Satisfactory", with an average rating of three (3).

The highest-rated responses were given to the question concerning the Officers' politeness and willingness to serve the Customer, with an average rating of four (4), followed by the question concerning the complaint submission method, with an average rating of three (3).

The results of this survey show that the Customer Service Officers handle complaints with politeness and effectiveness, and that they build on the existing experience in the best possible way.

Proposals for Improvement

In the context of its efforts to improve the quality of the services offered by the Bank, the Quality Assurance Unit created a dedicated area on the Alpha Bank Intranet intended for two-way communication between the Unit and Officers in all Branches, as well as in the Units involved in the customer service chain.

In this area, Employees can submit Proposals for Improvement, which draw on their valuable experience and are the result of their daily contacts with Customers, as well as of their constant use of the Bank's operating systems.

In 2014 the location of this area changed, as it was moved to a prominent position on the Intranet's home page. This change was based on a Proposal for Improvement submitted by a colleague (15.7.14) and led to the increase by 50% of the number of submitted Proposals for Improvement compared to 2013.

During 2014, a total of sixty (60) Proposals for Improvement were submitted. These were forwarded to the competent Divisions of the Bank.

Consumer research surveys

To establish a fuller understanding of the views, needs and behaviours of Customers, in order to enhance their level of satisfaction as well as to optimise the communication strategy and the products/services offered, a market research plan consisting of a mix of qualitative and quantitative market research surveys was implemented in 2014.

Quantitative research

Quantitative market research surveys were carried out in order to follow the changes over time in the position of Alpha Bank and of its competitors in the banking market, in terms of consumer perception and behaviour indexes, as well as in terms of communication and image evaluation indexes for banks.

Specifically, in order to maintain the high level of satisfaction of its Customers, one of the surveys that were carried out was the quantitative Customer Satisfaction survey, which establishes the level of satisfaction overall as well as by customer service network. According to the survey findings, more than eight (8) out of every ten (10) Customers of the Bank rate the Bank positively in terms of the overall assessment index, as 41% of Customers assess the Bank as "Excellent / Very good" and 42% as "Good".

The recommendation index, which refers to the probability of respondents recommending the Bank to their friends/relatives, is also high, as 38% of the Customers report that they will "certainly / most probably" recommend it and 39% report that they will "probably" do so.

With regard to its image as a Bank, Alpha Bank is assessed by its Customers more positively for the characteristics which are associated with credibility (56%), good reputation (54%) and financial stability (53%). Branches are chosen by Customers more often than alternative service networks, such as for example Alpha Web Banking. In what concerns the service received at the Branch, the characteristics more positively assessed are those associated with the human factor, such as devoting the time required to serve the Customer (7.1%), the experience of the Officers at the Branch (68%), as well as presenting the Customer with solutions (68%).

The percentages referring to the perceived image characteristics received overall ratings of five (5) "Excellent" and four (4) "Very good", on a scale from one (1) to five (5).

The survey results are used as input to the design and development of an action plan to further enhance Customer satisfaction and improve their relationship with the Bank.

The Customer satisfaction survey was carried out by TNS ICAP with the telephone interviews method from 8 January until 14 February 2014, using a sample of 1,600 Customers of the Bank who had carried out at least one transaction with the Bank in the previous three months. The survey used a countrywide sample of retail Customers (individuals) aged 18-75, diversified in terms of the products they hold and the service network they use.

Qualitative research

Qualitative research surveys were carried out in order to record the trends and perceptions created, taking also into account current developments in the banking sector, as well as in order to gain a deeper understanding of the needs of Customers in terms of products and services.

One of the categories on which the Bank focused during 2014 is that of Customers who are having difficulty in repaying their loans. The qualitative survey, which was carried out during March 2014, aimed to show the deeper perceptions of this particular target group, so as to enable the design of solutions to better address its needs. According to the survey findings, the way in which borrowers deal with their obligations differs, depending on the period of time for which the loan has been in arrears, while a part of these Customers hesitates to approach the Bank with the intention to seek a solution. The use of the survey findings drove Alpha Bank to create the dedicated microsite www.vriskoumelyseis.gr, on which the Bank's Customers can obtain information, maintaining full anonymity, and explore alternative solutions for settling their debts, before visiting an Alpha Bank Branch. According to the respondents, the microsite, through the calculation tool it provides, can energise borrowers and boost their morale.

The survey was carried out by QED using the focus groups method, from 14 until 18 March, 2014. Five focus groups were held in Athens with borrowers aged 35-60, diversified in terms of the type of banking products they held as well as in terms of the total amount of their debts.

Responsible Marketing

To ensure its Customers' trust in its products and services, Alpha Bank attaches particular importance to ongoing communication and dialogue.

The Bank's advertisements present all the details which are necessary in order to inform the public about its available products and services. Where a particular advertising medium cannot convey adequate details due to space or time limitations, the Bank's website address (www.alpha.gr) or use of QR code or Call Centre number are always provided as an option for accessing more detailed information.

Every advertising communication plan is examined by the competent Divisions of the Bank and by the Legal Services Division, to ensure objectivity in the provision of information. In this respect, the Bank complies with the regulatory framework in force regarding transparency in the provision of information to contractual parties, contractual information, advertising and the terms of contracts with its Customers.

During 2014, with the aim of improving the provision of information to the Bank's Customers and the communication with them, the Marketing Division of the Bank, developed special-purpose communication materials for the information campaign regarding the acquisition of Citibank's Retail Operations in Greece, including Diners Club, in order to assist Customers.

More specifically, an information campaign was carried out, launched in June and completed in November 2014, on television, in the Press and on the Internet. The key communication message of the information campaign in the Press and on the Internet was: "Appreciation leads to trust. Alpha Bank is the Bank Citi trusts to continue servicing its Retail Banking Clients in Greece." The communication on television was based on "Citigold", the leading personal banking service in Greece, with the intention of over-emphasising the continuation of these operations by Alpha Bank.

This acquisition of Citibank's Retail Banking operations in Greece followed after the successful acquisition of Emporiki Bank in 2013 and reaffirms Alpha Bank as the "Bank of Choice" for Customers in the affluent and mass affluent segments. With the acquisition of Citibank's Retail Banking operations in Greece, Alpha Bank is looking forward to leveraging Citibank's specialisation in Wealth Management operations and to expanding the range of Alpha Bank products and services offered in the market. In this way, Customers have at their disposal an expanded portfolio of high value-added products and services.

Finally, it is pointed out that the Bank takes care to ensure that Customers are provided with the fullest possible information regarding financial management matters. To this end, relevant information leaflets of the Hellenic Bank Association are distributed in the premises of the Bank, with simultaneous promotion of face-to-face communication and briefings by the Bank's Personnel to all population groups, including Customers who may not be knowledgeable in financial matters, such as young people, the elderly, low-paid individuals, immigrants etc.

Transparency in Banking Transactions

Throughout 2014, Alpha Bank conducted audits of transactions and Customers for compliance with the regulatory framework, with the aim of combating money laundering, fraud, and financial crime, using the specialised control systems it has put in place and working closely with the competent Regulatory Authorities. In line with the Bank's firm and unwavering position against corruption, during 2014 the Market and Operational Risk Division and the Compliance Division examined all cases which could represent a risk in connection with the Bank's efforts to combat corruption and bribery.

It is pointed out that although the Bank does not have in place a consolidated policy document on combating corruption, the matter is covered by the following official texts of the Bank:

- Staff Regulations
- Code of Ethics
- Corporate Governance Code
- General Management Act No. 57/12.10.2004
- Rules and Regulations of the Audit Committee
- General Manager - CEO Act no. 30/11.6.2010 Rules and Regulations
- Outsourcing Policy and Procedures Manual

In cases where Employees of the Bank act in an irregular manner or are guilty of omissions or breach provisions of the Staff Regulations or Management Decisions, the Bank is obliged to impose penalties in application of the Staff Regulations, with a view to maintaining the internal order and smooth operation of its Services.

During 2014 no report was made of cases involving bribery of Employees. Nevertheless, the Bank imposed disciplinary penalties on various grounds, such as irregularities in transactions, negligent control and supervision, negligence in the discharge of duties, violation of guidelines and procedures, breach of the Group Information Security Framework, unjustified late morning arrival for work etc., as follows:

- Written remark (warning): 19 cases
- Written reprimand: 25 cases
- Temporary suspension: 13 cases

The Bank's Personnel is informed of their obligations in connection with matters concerning corruption from the texts mentioned above, as well as through the relevant training activities, which also include subjects on combating corruption.

It should be noted that during 2014 a total of 65 training programmes on anti-corruption policies and procedures were carried out, attended by 1,804 Executives and Officers of the Bank. Additionally, the Bank has in place a procedure for the appointment of an Anti-Money Laundering (AML) Officer in each one of its Branches. These Branch AML Officers are provided with adequate training on AML and anti-corruption policies and procedures, combined with daily telephone support by the AML Section of the Compliance Division, to ensure that they are able to identify and handle such incidents. After they are identified and the required actions have been completed, any cases involving money laundering and corruption are reported in writing to the Anti-Money Laundering, Counter-Terrorist Financing and Source of Funds Investigation Authority.

While making continuous efforts to consistently meet the expectations of its Customers and of the State, Alpha Bank has introduced procedures to ensure the strict application of the regulations and decisions of the Authorities responsible for the financial sector. In 2014, the number of complaints made through Regulatory and other Authorities regarding products and services of the Bank increased by 7.3% compared to 2013. It should be noted that in 2014 no fines were imposed by Regulatory Authorities for incidents involving corruption.

Moreover, the Bank applies a Policy and related Procedures on Anonymous Reporting ("Whistleblowing") of serious irregularities, omissions or offences of which Personnel becomes aware, in order to safeguard its integrity and good reputation. This Policy applies not only to the Bank's Personnel but also to service providers that have signed a contract with the Bank. Finally, it should be stressed that the Bank did not fund any political party or political figure.

Together with our People

The Employees of Alpha Bank are its most valuable asset, as the Bank's growth depends on their capabilities and their engagement in the achievement of corporate goals. Every day, their dedication and diligence in seeking to develop and provide the best possible financial services creates value for the Bank, for the national economy and for the society.

As a responsible employer, the Bank is constantly striving to meet its Employees' expectations.

To this end, it takes care to provide them with continuous education and training, to help them achieve a healthy balance between their professional and personal life, to assist them in ensuring their prosperity, to offer equal opportunities for their development and in general to apply a Human Resources policy which not only helps the Bank achieve its business goals but also contributes to a more meritocratic society.

In connection with the acquisition, on 30 September 2014, of Citibank's Retail Banking operations including Diner's Club in Greece, the strategic goal of the Human Resources Division is to ensure the best possible use of all Personnel resources and to leverage in the broadest possible terms the skills of the 698 Citibank Employees, strengthening Personnel loyalty and work commitment.

Securing Employment

The Bank continues to deal with job vacancies through internal procedures, in order to place competent members of Personnel to positions of responsibility, drawing on the results of its performance review system. In cases where this is not possible, the Bank turns to the local labour market.

In 2014 the Bank cooperated with the Athens University of Economics and Business, through the Students' Practical Training Programme, offering to 10 full-time graduate or postgraduate students of the University the opportunity of practical training working alongside experienced professionals, in order to gain work experience.

Caring for our Employees

Recognising the importance and the contribution of its Human Resources to its success, Alpha Bank offers to its Personnel a varied additional benefits scheme. These benefits include a number of allowances, covers and services for Employees and their family members that demonstrate in practice the Bank's actual care for its Employees and its interest in their welfare. Together for the Environment

Raising awareness of environmental issues and protecting the environment are key priorities for the Bank. In this respect, the Bank sets measurable targets whose attainment is systematically monitored in the course of each year.

Additionally, the Bank organises, supports and participates in environmental actions to strengthen the ecological conscience of its Employees and their families and improve the quality of the environment.

Systematic monitoring

The Bank’s environmental policy is promoted and monitored by the Procurement, Property and Security Division in collaboration with the Corporate Social Responsibility Section of the Marketing and Public Relations Division and in line with the targets set. Furthermore, the environmental policy is assured through the guidance provided by the Executive Committee, which remains responsible for all decisions on environmental matters related to the operation of the Bank.

Reduction of our Environmental Footprint

In line with its efforts to achieve energy savings and reduce carbon dioxide emissions, Alpha Bank continued to promote the rational use of lighting, heating and cooling installations in its Buildings, as well as distance learning. More specifically, participations in distance learning programmes (e-learning and web training) during 2014 stood at 3,673 persons and accounted for 26% of the total number of Personnel participations in training courses.

In March 2014, the Bank participated for the sixth consecutive year in the “Earth Hour” international initiative, by switching off all lights at its Corporate Headquarters Building in Athens, for one hour.

As far as energy savings are concerned, the measured consumption of electricity per square meter in the Bank Network stood at 132.0 KWh/m², down from 146.8 KWh/m² in 2013, while substitution of oil by natural gas for heating purposes in the Bank’s buildings was continued, resulting in savings in resources and in benefits for the natural environment. The measured consumption of natural gas in the Alpha Bank Buildings stood at 250,934 m³.

1. The Bank measures and records the annual consumption of electricity, oil, natural gas and water in Bank buildings, offices and Branches whose number and total surface increase with every year. In the table above, the figures given for the respective consumptions in 2014 represent measurements taken at Buildings, Branches (Network) and other facilities of the Bank and include building space occupied by Bank Subsidiaries in Greece, in cases where the latter are also housed in these buildings. In order to calculate the above consumption figures and the corresponding measured areas, the following principles were applied (where applicable and feasible): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Measurements include the building space occupied by Bank Subsidiaries (where these are housed together with the Bank in the same building), as well as common areas, empty areas, parking spaces and auxiliary areas (as derived from the ownership title for the building or from contractual arrangements etc.). • In some cases, the Bank is charged with its share of the respective consumptions through the bills for shared consumption and maintenance expenses for the respective buildings. Where this is not the case, the Bank in principle - and until further notice - is charged with the total consumption of the respective buildings. 2. The following conversion rates were used: 1 litre of oil corresponds to 10.8 KWh. For natural gas, the supplier's rate was used. The rate of 814 kg of carbon dioxide emissions per MWh is the rate used by the Greenhouse Gas Protocol for 2002 (www.ghgprotocol.org/calculation-tools).

Alpha Bank continues to use low energy consumption, 75 gr "eco-efficient" copier paper. In addition, in 2014 it expanded its Managed Printing Service to one more of its Buildings, in order to benefit from multiple savings (lower consumption of paper, consumables and fixed equipment).

The purpose of Alpha Bank's Supply Chain is to ensure delivery to the Bank's internal network of services/materials to the specifications required, at optimal cost and within schedule.

To this end, the following are carried out:

The Bank's register of suppliers contains entries for around 700 Suppliers in Greece, with which the Procurement, Property and Security Division can cooperate. Cooperation with these Suppliers involves the supply of products or services (consumables and printed material, electrical and IT equipment, cleaning services, IT support services, technical projects and contracts for works). In addition these Suppliers cover the entire supplier typology (contractors, consultants, distributors, logistic partners, sales representatives, manufacturers). Suppliers are assessed regularly, in accordance with their performance and economic activity. It is pointed out that efforts are being made to support the local communities, whilst in the case of specialised services (e.g. cleaning), the Bank works with local suppliers.

GEOGRAPHIC DISTRIBUTION	% SHARE
ATHENS	75.2%
OTHE REGIONS	22.4%
ABROAD	2.4%
TOTAL	100%

The procurement process is coordinated centrally by the Procurement, Property and Security Division (annual needs in materials and fixed equipment, the provision of services and contracts for technical projects/works are budgeted. A competitive tender procedure follows, resulting the conclusion of the main contracts with suppliers). Supplies to the Bank's internal network are served by the respective Logistic Partner (for consumables and printed material) using the electronic ordering application or, when requests concern fixed assets, from the Bank's Central Warehouse.

Alpha Bank's Procurement, Property and Security Division takes care to ensure that the Bank's environmental policy is communicated in writing or verbally to its Suppliers, so that in their majority they may gradually obtain an environmental certification. The critical Suppliers or foreign Firms which supply the Bank with equipment (long-standing associations and contracts), are certified in accordance with the ISO 9001 International Standard (Quality Management Systems). In addition, most of them are also certified in accordance with the ISO 14001 International Standard (Environmental Management Systems). Nevertheless, the Bank continues to provide its Suppliers with information regarding the requirement for the Division's major Suppliers to obtain ISO 14001 certification.

In parallel, some of the Bank's Suppliers of equipment (banknote counters, photocopiers etc.) participate in alternative waste management programmes involving the collection, removal, transportation, temporary storage, reuse and utilisation (recycling and energy recovery) of Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) and/or of their components and assembled parts (including consumables), so that this equipment remains operational after it has been reused or processed, respectively.

Transparency of Social Contribution

During 2014 Alpha Bank continued to apply its internal evaluation system, whose purpose is to ensure efficiency and transparency in the Bank's Sponsorship Programmes. In line with this system, all requests are evaluated using objective efficiency criteria (economic, social and environmental) to justify the Bank's final decision. To assist the evaluation procedure of the sponsorship requests received, a Sponsoring Manual has been developed. This Manual is updated regularly and is forwarded to all the Divisions and Branches of the Bank in Greece, as well as to the Group Companies in Greece and abroad. The Sponsoring Manual describes in detail the procedure for the evaluation and approval of sponsorship requests which are either sent directly to the Marketing and Public Relations Division or submitted to the Branches of the Bank and to the Group Companies. INDEPENDENT ASSURANCE STATEMENT

To the management of Alpha Bank S.A.

The Alpha Bank 2014 Corporate Responsibility Report (“the Report”) has been prepared by the management of Alpha Bank S.A. (“the Bank”), which is responsible for the collection and presentation of the information contained therein. Our responsibility, in accordance with the Bank management’s instructions, is to carry out a “limited level” assurance engagement on the Greek pdf version of the Report.

Our responsibility in performing our assurance engagement is solely to the Bank’s management and in accordance with the terms of reference agreed between us. We neither accept nor we assume any responsibility and for any other purpose, to any other person or organization. Any reliance any third party may place on the Report is entirely at its own risk and responsibility.

Work scope and criteria

Our assurance engagement has been planned and performed in accordance with the International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3000 “Assurance Engagements Other Than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information” (ISAE3000), in order to provide a limited level assurance on the accuracy and completeness of quantitative data and the plausibility of qualitative information related to the GRI G4 General and Specific Standard against the “In accordance – Core” requirements. These Disclosures are indicated in the Report’s GRI G4 Content Index external assurance column (pages 82-90).

What we did to form our conclusions

In order to form our conclusions in relation to the scope and criteria mentioned above, we undertook (but were not limited to) the steps outlined below:

- Interviewed a selection of the Bank’s managers, in order to understand the current status of corporate responsibility activities and progress made during the reporting period.
- Reviewed the Bank’s approach to stakeholder engagement through interviews with managers responsible for engagement activities at corporate level and reviews of associated documentation.
- Reviewed the Bank’s processes for determining material issues to be included in the Report, as well as the coverage of material issues within the Report, against aspects found in the “GRI G4 Financial Services Sector Disclosures”, material issues and areas of performance covered in external media reports, and sustainability reports of selected European peers.
- Interviewed employees who are responsible for managing, collating and reviewing sustainability data reported for internal and public reporting purposes, linked to the G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures under the scope of our assurance engagement (indicated in the external assurance column of the GRI G4 Content Index with a checkmark, pp. 82-90).
- Reviewed the Report for the appropriate transposition and presentation of the sustainability data linked to the G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures under the scope of our assurance engagement (indicated in the external assurance column of the GRI G4 Content Index with a checkmark, pp. 82-90), a task which included conversations on limitations and assumptions relating to how these data are presented within the Report.
- Reviewed information or explanations to substantiate key data, statements and assertions regarding the sustainability disclosures under the scope of our assurance engagement.
- Reviewed the Report against the GRI G4 requirements for the “In accordance – Core” option.

Level of assurance

The evidence gathering procedures were designed to obtain a limited level of assurance (as set out in ISAE 3000) on which we formed our conclusions. The extent of these evidence gathering procedures is less than those designed to obtain a reasonable level of assurance and therefore a lower level of assurance is provided.

Limitations of our review

- Our review was limited to the Greek version of the Report. In the event of any inconsistency in translation between the Greek and English versions, as far as our conclusions are concerned, the Greek version of the Report prevails.
- The scope of our work did not include any review of third party activities or performance, nor attending any stakeholder engagement activities. In addition, it did not include any review of the accuracy of research results assigned to third parties, nor Information Technology systems used by third parties.
- Our review did not include financial data and the corresponding narrative text and testing of the Information Technology systems used or those upon which the collection and aggregation of data was based by the Bank.
- We do not provide any assurance relating to future information such as estimates, expectations or targets, or their achievability.
- Our review was limited to the parent company's activities. We do not provide conclusions concerning information reported on the Group or subsidiaries level.

Our conclusions

Based on the scope of our review our conclusions are outlined below:

Accuracy and completeness of quantitative data and plausibility of qualitative information related to the GRI G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures (indicated in the external assurance column of the GRI G4 Content Index with a checkmark, pp. 82-90), against the "In accordance – Core" requirements.

How plausible are the statements and claims within the Report linked to qualitative information on GRI G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures under scope?

- We have reviewed information or explanations on selected statements on the Bank's sustainability activities presented in the Report and we are not aware of any misstatements in the assertions made.

How complete and accurate are the quantitative data linked to the GRI G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures under scope?

- Nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that quantitative data linked to the GRI G4 General and Specific Standard Disclosures under scope has not been collated properly at corporate level.
- We are not aware of any errors that would materially affect the data as presented in the Report.

Does the Report meet the GRI G4 requirements of the "In accordance – Core" option?

- Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Report does not meet the requirements of the "In accordance – Core" option, as presented in the GRI G4 Content Index, found on pages 82-90.

Our independence

We have not provided any services relating to the preparation of the Bank's 2014 Corporate Responsibility Report, which would compromise our independence.

Our assurance team

The professionals which participated in the engagement are members of and are supported by the EY Climate Change and Sustainability Services global network, which undertakes similar engagements in Greece and at a global level.
